Charlie,

That will be great. I was planning to contact a few brokers after Christmas and try again. The broker in Boulder that handled the policies did managed to secure D&O coverage for the HOA but the underwriters the broker tried did not want to provide GL insurance due to the lapsed policy. I even signed an affidavit stating that there had been no claims prior or after the lapse, but to no avail.

So yes, please reach out to your agent and see if their underwriters will consider us.

Thanks, Mike

Hi Mike,

Just spoke with Ted, who said the HOA has had a few agencies refuse to provide coverage.

So I'm writing to see if you want me to contact our agent here in Bailey (we have a $2,000,000 policy, just as is required for RR) to see if they'll cover Roosevelt Ridge.
